Rising Costs Brings New Tuition Hike

Returning students felt the effects of the high cost of living when they were hit by a $25 increase in fees at registration.

Included in the increase are dormitory fees for men which jumped from $325 to $350 per semester. Full time tuition fees increased $25. Part time tuition fees were raised from $17.50 to $20 per semester hour. All other fees have remained the same.

Letters were mailed out during the summer from the office of James H. Halsey, president, notifying all students of the increase in fees.

President Halsey brought to the attention of the new students returning students, and parents, the reasons for the increase. He stated that rising costs of operation, provision of new facilities, need for increased faculty salaries and additional income for scholarship assistance have necessitated a modest increase in some University fees for the 1958-59 academic year.

The Trustees and the administrators of the University stated that they hoped the changes would not cause hardships on the students. However, anyone having serious problems or specific questions should get in touch with the Business Office and every effort will be made to resolve any difficulties.

Scribe Work Earns Credit

The Scribe, in cooperation with the Journalism Department and the University, will conduct a one semester hour of credit Journalism Workshop—Journalism 299—during the current school year. It will require a one hour class session weekly and assigned tasks.

"We hope to encourage and develop all the diversified talents present in any student body," declared Prof. Howard Boone Jacobson, Scribe advisor, who will direct the Workshop. "The personnel needs of The Scribe should definitely come from many University majors, particularly those in English, advertising, selling, accounting, art, design, and secretarial studies, but this does not exclude the student who just has an idea he'd like to work on the campus newspaper."

"The purpose of the Workshop," Jacobson emphasized, "is to acquaint both kinds of students with the operation of the Scribe, but most of all, to offer a creative laboratory for all students who would like to try their hand in the editorial, advertising, business, production or clerical functions of the paper. We invite serious minded students to sign up now or during late registration for the course," Jacobson said.

According to Prof. Jacobson, the only ability a student must have if he is to remain a member of the Workshop team is a willingness to grasp techniques and methods and to respect deadlines.

REGISTRATION PIX

All students are reminded that they must be photographed during registration. This applies not only to incoming freshmen but to all returning University students. The picture will be used on the I.D. card which is used to gain admittance to University athletic and social events.

Dance to Highlight Frosh Week

Picnics, refreshments, a jazz session and the selection and presentation of the Freshman Queen at the Freshman Ball are only a few of the activities highlighting the traditional Freshman Week which started Tuesday and ends Sunday.

Freshmen and their parents were welcomed to the campus and given an orientation to college life during the week.

Fall semester classes will begin Sept. 22 with registration scheduled for Sept. 18-19 at the gymnasium from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

A Freshman Week Committee made up of more than 100 upper classmen as well as faculty and staff members has been meeting throughout the summer to arrange the program of activities for the new students.

The Freshman Week started Tuesday with the opening of dormitories, at Alumni Hall, a tour of the campus, an orientation for the parents, the president's and vice-president's reception and tea, a performance by the Knights of Thunder and a record hop.

Yesterday there was convocation, meeting with faculty advisors, freshman convocation sponsored by student groups, a picnic at Fones Hall and a movie at Alumni Hall.

Today and tomorrow registration will take place at the Gym. A concert is scheduled for this evening at Alumni Hall. Tomorrow night will be an informal date night.

Saturday night, dormitory visitations will be permitted during the afternoon with the traditional Freshman Ball to take place at the Ritz Ballroom in the evening.

On Sunday an interfaith brunch will be held at the dining hall.

General chairmen for the Freshman week activities is Vincent Falcone. Falcone is assisted by: Bernard Goldberg, and Shirley Sabo, vice-chairmen; Mona Faulkner, secretary; Ronald Miller, treasurer; and Louis Levine, publicity.

Committee chairmen include: Philip Bush, beanies; Louise Clark, Freshman Queen; Raymond Cormier, student convocation; Charles Dragonette, orientation for parents; Richard Drast, student guides; Marilyn Ehlers, and David Eskrom, Freshman Ball; Lorrie Jacknis, interfaith brunch.

Also Donald Kaiser, University convocation; Joanna Miska, "Freshman Daze" program; John Schully, beanies court; Roger Sodermholm, welcome committee. Mrs. Marion Hotchkiss, director of social activities and Prof. William DeSiero are advisors to the committee. Dr. Francis E. Dolan is advisor to the freshman class.

Building Fund Drive Total Is $600,000

The $600,000 mark has been passed in the University's campaign for the new $950,000 Science Building, according to Harold C. Main, general chairman of the committee.

Construction of the Science Building was approved by the University Board of Trustees last month and campaigning to obtain the remaining one-third of the total cost is continuing, Mr. Main said, with the goal expected to be reached before the completion of the building next fall.

Fairfield Hall will be razed later this fall and ground breaking ceremonies will also be held at the site of the new structure at Park Place and Hazel St. at the beginning of this semester.

Completion of the two-story laboratory and classroom building will make it possible for the University to offer major work in chemistry and physics for the first time.

Programs in mechanical, electrical and industrial engineering as well as biology will also be strengthened, according to University officials. The electrical engineering curriculum has been fully accredited and first degrees in this field will be granted in 1960.

Campaigning for the Science Building has been extended to national corporations for the first time during the past month, Mr. Main said, and he also expects additional support from the area when business conditions improve.

Campaigning for the new structure has been a major project for many members of the University and interested citizens of the Bridgeport area. Students of the University took part in a gigantic UB Day last spring and the event raised over $30,000 for the building.

The decision to erect the new building was made in the fall of 1957 and was preceded by months of deliberation, according to President James H. Halsey.

The University, he said, has long felt the need of a broader science program. Now that the basic construction, which includes the library, gymnasium and dormitories, is well established, the new science-classroom building represents the next logical step in the campus development program.

The main entrance to the building will be on Park Place, but the building will also extend well along Hazel St. The structure will be 80 ft. in width, 240 ft. in length, and 30 ft. in height. Two stories high, it will contain a huge lecture room, classrooms, laboratories and rooms for exhibits.

Halsey Honored At Pittsburgh

Dr. James H. Halsey, president of the University, was honored during the summer by the Delta Tau Delta fraternity at Pittsburgh, Pa.

Fraternal members who "have brought honor to Delta Tau Delta through outstanding personal achievement in their chosen profession" were honored at the affair commemorating the 100th anniversary of the fraternity's founding.

Paul O. Hoffman, the first United States economic co-operation administrator, and Branch Rickey, of the Pittsburgh Pirates, were among the individuals to be honored.

Dr. Halsey was president of Beta Psi chapter of Delta Tau Delta at Wabash College, where he received his bachelor of arts degree in 1927.

Fire Damages Milford Hall

Workmen have been busy during the last two weeks clearing away the charred debris left behind from a fire which seriously damaged Milford Hall Sept. 1.

The blaze, described as being of "incendiary origin", broke out at 4:30 p.m. on the Labor Day afternoon and kept Bridgeport firemen at work for the better part of two hours.

Ass't. Fire Chief Jerome C. Barrett said the fire was started in three different sections of the two and one-half story building which was unoccupied at the time.

A check of the source of the fire brought Bridgeport Police to the scene to check for possible arson. At press time police were still investigating the case.

The fire chief asserted that the fire was started in a lower-floor kitchen closet and under two separate cabinets under a sink. "Linen from beds, rags and newspapers were used to start the blaze," Chief Barrett said.

He added that pillows were ripped apart and feathers thrown about. Also damaged was kitchen equipment, the chief said. Police Capt. Francis Shanley said a preliminary investigation showed that a screen had been cut from a rear window and that the window was then broken to gain entry.

Milford Hall had been used as a men's dormitory for the past few years. It had been redecorated during the summer to make room for the art department which has to be shifted from Fairfield Hall which will be razed for the new Science Building. The second floor is still scheduled to be used as a dormitory and was still equipped with beds.

At press time, University workmen were putting the finishing touches on the second floor dormitory area. Ten men will use the second floor.

The proposed art department, however, still requires extensive repairs and is not scheduled to be ready until after the fall semester opening.

Thus, facilities for classroom space at the University are, for the semester, at a minimum. Increased enrollment plus the razing of Fairfield Hall, which formerly served as a classroom building with over eight rooms and several faculty offices, are the main reasons for the limited space.

Dormitory space is more plentiful but still not as large as needed. The girls' dormitories are expected to be filled to capacity and the men's living quarters will near the capacity mark.

The acquisition by the University of a house on Marina Park St. has increased dormitory space. This building will be known as Darien Hall. (See picture pg. 2)

THUNDER' CASTS

Casting for this year's Campus Thunder production of "Banned in Boston" will be held Sept. 29-30 at the Drama Center at 7:30 p. m. Albert Dickason, who made the announcement, also added that a technical staff meeting will be held Wednesday, Oct. 1. He invites any interested student to try out for the 'Thunder' production.

2 TRADITION AND POSITION

The Scribe — Thursday, Sept. 18, 1958

ANY UNIVERSITY that grows and prospers builds for itself certain traditions that remain the same down through the years. The University of Bridgeport is building a tradition for the future of service to the community and to the state and along with the growth of the University has been the paralleled growth of the Scribe.

THIS BEGINS the 29th year that the Scribe has served as the official student publication and we want to begin the year by explaining our tradition and our position, both of which go hand in hand.

OUR POSITION, of course, is service to the students of the University. It is our job to acquaint the students with the activities of the total student body and with policies of the University administration which affect the students.

IN DOING our job, we have often had to wrestle with difficult problems and found ourselves in heated arguments with certain segments of the University. But these difficulties have only served to strengthen our position and build a tradition of honest and open discussion.

THE FIRST part of our job is to publish student activities. Therefore, we try to seek out most of the news concerning student affairs and attempt to aid in publicizing campus events. Our major problem in this respect is that we cannot know EVERYTHING that is happening on campus and have to rely on the students to inform us of what is or is expected to happen.

WE WELCOME any student at our office and will consider for publication any news that is important to the students. We naturally prefer student news rather than cartoons or faculty releases. Everything that is found in the Scribe should be important to some group of students. Therefore, if any organization needs publicity or a helping hand of any kind, let us know it in advance and it will find its way into the pages of the Scribe, the STUDENT newspaper.

THE SECOND part of our duty to the students is to inform them of any developments or projected developments that stem from administration authorities and will affect the student body. It is in this area, however, that we sometimes run into a snag and when we do, it usually ends in the students' favor.

IN THE PAST, a minor portion of those in authority have been wont to treat their positions as untouchable and infallible. Thus, there has developed in the past a limited amount of sacred cows on campus.

WHEN AND IF the students have a gripe or should be informed of new policies, we stand ready to fight to present information. The Scribe must stand in loyal opposition to any agency. We feel that this is a desirable alignment in a democratic institution. Our obligation is to place the Scribe on the side of information and maintain constant pressure against the sacred cows of secrecy. We have not felt nor will we feel any guilt in questioning policies.

THE MAJORITY of campus officials on campus are, however, ready and willing to communicate actions and policies to the students. The president of the University has shown that he is in favor of free and open discussion of campus issues and was honored for this progressive attitude early this year by Pi Delta Epsilon, the national honorary journalism fraternity.

WE HOPE that all campus leaders will follow the example of Dr. James H. Halsey and others in giving us the opportunity to serve the students of the University in the future. Only by serving the students efficiently can we strengthen our position and build an even stronger tradition.

FIREFIGHTERS PREPARE to enter the University's Milford Hall last Labor Day afternoon as a blaze of "incendiary origin" broke out in the two-story dormitory which was unoccupied at the time. Smoke is visible pouring from the eaves and broken windows of the structure.

Vox Populi

The Scribe welcomes letters from readers for publication. Correct names and addresses must be given, but not necessarily for publication. All letters should be addressed: Letter to Editor, Scribe.

Unduly long letters may be reduced or omitted at the editor's discretion. Writers are responsible for statements of fact or opinion, not this newspaper.

ANONYMOUS LETTERS GO INTO THE WASTEBASKET.

CLASS RINGS

Students who ordered senior class rings earlier this year may pick them up at the Student Activities Office in Alumni Hall. Prof. George Stanley advises all students who have ordered rings to come to the office as soon as possible. Seniors who have not ordered rings may do so at a date to be announced early in the semester.

Circle K Club Formed on Campus

The Circle K Club, a service organization composed of students of the University and sponsored by the local chapter of the Kiwanis International, will be introduced to the campus this year.

Members of this group were picked late last semester by the deans of the colleges and the charter members, numbering 14, and representing all divisions of the University.

The initial meeting of the Circle K was held last May and tentative officers were elected at that time. Bob Moran, a senior majoring in engineering, was chosen as the first president and Wilson Fogarty, a senior in business administration, was named vice-president. Fred Dauer, also a senior engineering student, was elected secretary.

The Circle K Club, an international organization devoted to the service of the collegiate campus, is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club and functions much as does the civic group on the municipal level, according to Moran.

The new president said that the University will be one of only four colleges in the New England area to boast a Circle K Club. The charter was applied for and approved during the summer, he said, and the organization will begin operating this semester.

Officials of the Circle K have been meeting with the Bridgeport Kiwanis members and were guests of the chapter at their Sept. 4 meeting in the Stratfield Hotel. John Jensen, vice-president of the Kiwanis Club, introduced the students to the group at their weekly luncheon.

Moran added that the objectives of the Circle K are numerous and varied. He mentioned a few of the aims of the organization: to serve on the campus and in the community; to cooperate with the administrative officers of the University; to encourage participation in group activities; and to promote good fellowship and high scholarship.

Moran also announced that the Circle K's Charter Day Dinner is scheduled for some time in October. The group will then be officially installed as a member of the international organization.

Campus Honor Society Lists New Members

Seventeen University students qualified and were inducted into Aristela, the highest honor society on the University campus, according to Dr. Helen M. Scurr, chairman of the English department and sponsor of the organization.

Inducted were: Werner Egli, senior, majoring in engineering; Carol Friedberg, graduate magna cum laude, majored in political science; Sally Goldman, senior, majoring in elementary education; Joanne C. Nealon, graduate, magna cum laude, majored in French; Lois Prentice, graduate magna cum laude, majored in sociology; Richard Shepard, senior, majoring in secondary education.

Also, Harry Sinclair, graduate magna cum laude, majored in industrial engineering; Frank Waters, senior, majoring in mechanical engineering; Rodney McFarland, senior, majoring in history; Andrew Wargo, graduate cum laude, majored in psychology; Robert Manger, senior, majoring in mechanical engineering.

Also, John C. Adler, graduate cum laude, majored in education; Lillian Hyatt, senior, majoring in mathematics; William Losaw, senior, majoring in mathematics; Edward S. Swanson, graduate suma cum laude, majored in business economics; and Alberta Trew, junior, majoring in psychology.

Student Council Shows 18 New Faces Led By Mitchell

The University's official student representatives, the Student Council are ready to begin planning for the new school year under the direction of their new president, Andrew Mitchell.

The council itself, is almost an entirely new group of representatives. Eighteen of the new members, which number 20, have not previously served on the Council. The new executive committee is also comprised of members without previous Council participation.

Advisors to the group are Prof. William T. De Siero and Prof. George Stanley.

Heading the slate for the senior class are: vice president, Shirley Sabo; secretary, Edward Wolf; treasurer, Peter Benedetti; first representative, Herb Smith; second representative, Joe O'Brien; first alternate, Mickey Donohue; second alternate, John Anglace.

Representing the junior class are president, Joseph Kelly; vice-president, Frederick Pike; secretary, Barbara Sirotnik; treasurer, William L. Koke; first representative, Charles Drag-onette; first alternate, Mike Alpert; and second alternate, John Metcalf.

The holdovers from last year's slate are: Koke, Wolf and Organ.

Elton G. Rogers Wills New Scholarship Fund

Establishment of The Elton G. Rogers Fund scholarship, valued at approximately $95,000, was announced by Dr. James. H. Halsey, president.

The scholarship fund, was created through a bequest under terms of the will of Elton Rogers, retired industrial executive who died December 26, 1956.

Formal acceptance of the gift by the executive committee of the Board of Trustees took place at a summer meeting.

Only the income from the fund may be used for scholarships under the terms of the will, Dr. Halsey said.

The principal will be added to the University's permanent endowment increasing that total to over $540,000.

Whether scholarships will be available for this fall from the fund has not as yet been determined, Dr. Halsey said.

Expressing the gratitude and appreciation of the University's trustees, administrators and staff as well as students who will eventually benefit from Mr. Rogers' bequest, Dr. Halsey pointed out that the gift was the largest ever received by the University under the terms of a will.

"Mr. Rogers' bequest to the University is indicative of an increasing area interest and confidence," Dr. Halsey observed.

"Financial assistance of this kind heartens and inspires all members of the University family who are constantly striving to make the University a better institution of higher learning. It also will enable many students to acquire a college education who might not otherwise be able to attend college," he said.

Alumni Survey Reveals Grads Are Successful

Approximately 17 percent of University alumni are employed in supervisory capacities within industrial, educational, business and other organizations, according to a two-month survey of 717 graduates completed during the summer by the Alumni Office.

Four and one-half percent reported personal ownership of enterprises or systems according to statistics released by the alumni office.

Nearly 75 percent of the alumni said that they were married with more than one half reporting at least one child. The average number of children per married alumnus is 1.4.

Eleven percent were reported in the medical and dental fields including doctors and dentists as well as nurses and dental hygienists.

More than 37 percent of reporting alumni indicated that they were in industrial or commercial activity including production, personnel, engineering and industrial fields. Twenty one percent listed commercial sales occupations.

Educational, religious and social services claimed the attention of about 25 percent of the alumni.

Advanced degrees have been obtained by 12 percent while 15 percent report leadership activities in communities wherein they reside. Ten report leadership roles on state or national levels.

Questionnaires were sent to approximately 5,600 alumni now on the University rolls.

Eighty percent of the alumni live in the Greater Bridgeport, Connecticut and Metropolitan New York area. Ninety five percent live East of the Mississippi with the remaining five percent residing west of the Mississippi or outside the continental limits of the United States.

Annual surveys of alumni activities are planned by the alumni office according to William B. Kennedy, director of alumni relations.

UB Market Potential Noted

The Scribe's annual market survey reveals that with the increased enrollment of students at the University, this year should bring a bigger market to local merchants in the Bridgeport area.

Sid Kohn, Scribe Advertising Manager, has revealed that the Scribe has published its second market survey for this fall. The survey gives local and national advertisers a more definite picture of the selling potential of a campus newspaper.

One of the few student newspapers in the country to compile such a report, the Scribe is now employing the practices of metropolitan newspapers in attracting advertisers.

The basic content of the survey gives the advertiser a rundown on the accumulated statistics of student body buying power. The national amount spent by students tops the 9 billion dollar mark while in the Bridgeport area over one million was spent.

Kohn states that the report fills an important need in this area because merchants do not always realize the buying power of students nor the potential growth of a local university. The University market is growing yearly.

According to figures based on estimates of the National Education Association, the Carnegie Foundation, and Educational Relations Service of the General Electric Corporation, the enrollment of the University will climb to 10,800 by 1972. This will be almost three times the size of the present enrollment.

The Scribe advertising manager added that with this increase of students comes a potential enlarged market. Retail sales last year hit a record high for August and September. This year the goal is even bigger with enrollment at an all time high.

Kohn states the report also gives a detailed account of student buying habits and motivations as well as facts and figures where he spends it. This market survey will not only help students, but will aid local merchants as well, to focus on their market. Greater sales and more traffic will go to those merchants who plan and promote for the future potential of the local University market.

SUMMER RECORD

A record enrollment of 1835 students at the University's summer sessions was realized this year, representing an increase of more than 22 percent over the previous high of last year. One 10-week session and two five-week sessions, as well as classes in the reading laboratory, produced the new summer study record.

Knights Open Saturday

Veteran Eleven Faces Norwich in Vermont

by Andy Morgo

The Purple Knights, coached by Walter (Kay) Kondratovich, will open their season this coming Saturday against Norwich University at Northfield, Vermont. This contest marks the opening of a nine game schedule for the Knights. Last year the Knights had their first winning season since 1952, and Coach Kondratovich is optimistic that this year's eleven will better last year's record of four wins, three losses, and one tie. The Knights have played the Cadets of Norwich twice before and both games ended in a tie.

This year's team could be the strongest in the school's brief history, with only a few losses from last year's squad. The main problem facing Coach Kay will be the lack of an experienced second unit. This has been the biggest reason for the poor showing of the University's football teams in the past.

Coach Kondratovich has perhaps the best pair of halfbacks of any small college in the east. Captain Don Scott is big, (205 pounds), fast, (runs the 100 yard ing scorer and ground gainer last year. Dixon is a rugged 195 pounds and is the fastest man on the squad. He runs the 100 yard dash in 10.1, a school record. Dixon made the All State first team last year and was picked as the best back that Brandeis University faced all year. Kay will count heavily on these two men this year.

Mickey Donahue will handle the quarterbacking chores. Donahue is a very outstanding punter and was seventh in the nation last year in this department. He averaged better than 42 yards per kick. Donahue is also a better than average passer and his size, 220 pounds, and his speed make him a feared runner. George Muzea, who led the team in pass interceptions last year, is also ready to share the quarterbacking position. Richard Roth, although hampered by a leg injury, is now ready to move into a starting assignment at quarterback or halfback.

The fullback position is still a question mark, because of the injured Tracy Smith. Smith was the fullback last year, but saw only limited action because of a shoulder injury. Ed Wakim, a halfback last year, has been converted to the fullback position and probably will get the nod Saturday. Tom Shea, up from the freshman team, will also see action at fullback.

The Purple Knights have a veteran line returning, but there will be few experienced second unit men. Duane Shepard, the team's leading pass receiver last year, will be at one end. Shepard, slowed by an ankle injury last year, is now in great physical condition and should be a big help in Coach Kay's defensive plans. The other end is still a question mark with Robert Lynch, Harold Kent, and Gene Dowling fighting for the starting berth. Lynch is a converted guard, Kent a converted tackle, and Dowling saw service last season as a halfback. All have been moved to end to relieve the problem of few experienced outside men.

The tackle position will have three returning lettermen in Richard Bonini, Walt Londergan, and John Lynch. Bonini is returning for the third straight year at tackle and the 215 pound senior is looking forward to his best year. Londergan, a 220 pound junior, held down the tackle spot last year and with the year's experience, should prove to be a real fine lineman. Lynch saw action last year at both tackle spots, and is counted on to relieve the two front line tackles.

Sophomore Angelo Palumbo probably will get the call at one of the guard positions, while the other guard shows Gene Molmar, Ralph King and Calvin Perry working hard for the starting assignment.

Leonard Ledet, a returning letterman, will get the opening call at the center position, but Vito Rallo and Ronnie Osborne will also see plenty of action. Rallo is up from the freshman team, while Osborne saw limited action last year as a sophomore.

Coach Kondratovich will again use the split T formation which was new to the school last year.

YMCA Presents New Social Club

The Bridgeport Young Men's Christian Association is sponsoring a new club for men and women between the ages of 18 and 21.

This social club started early in the summer with an ambitious activities schedule including beach parties, hikes, cockouts, miniature golf, dancing instruction and a regular "Y" night. Facilities are available so that club members may dance, play ping pong, cards, chess and pool on Tuesday evenings.

The club program chairman has announced the schedule for the next few weeks which includes a bowling party Sept. 23, a square dance Sept. 30, and a hayride or trip to West Point Oct. 4 or 5.

The Y.M.C.A. invites you to come down to the "Y" to meet our Coed Club. For further information, call ED 6-1181.

Former Little All-American Is Named New Frosh Coach

Dr. Herbert E. Glines, director of Athletics, announced that Robert G. DiSpirito, former Little All-American football player at the University of Rhode Island, has been named freshman football coach and varsity baseball coach.

DiSpirito replaces Lou Saccone, who has accepted the varsity football coaching position at Notre Dame Catholic High School. Saccone led the varsity baseball team to a fine 10-6 record last year as well as the frosh grid team, who finished well.

DiSpirito will also teach physical education in the University's Arnold College Division of Physical Education.

A native of Woonsocket R.I., DiSpirito graduated from Woonsocket High School where he played three years of basketball and baseball. He attended Marianapolis Prep at Thompson, Connecticut, and matriculated at the University of Rhode Island where he received a B.S. degree in physical education in 1953.

DiSpirito played four years of football and baseball at Rhode Island, captained the grid team his junior and senior year, and was named to the Little All-American team his senior year. DiSpirito played guard for the Rams and is a rugged 195 pounds. He is 5'9" tall.

His coaching experience has included service as head coach for the 272 Reg't of the U.S. Army while stationed at Fort Dix and two years at Cheshire Academy. He served as line coach the first year and head coach the second season.

The freshmen open their season away from home with a game against the Hofstra Frosh Oct. 10. The Purple Cubs will play only one game at home and that will be with Dean Jr. College at Seaside Park.

Dieter to Lead Soccer Club

The University's soccer team faces its toughest schedule in history but Coach John McKeon is optimistic, having 11 of his 12 lettermen back from last year and 12 prospects from an undefeated freshman squad.

Prominent returnees include seniors Frank Wlassak and George Dieter, the co-captains. Wlassak made All-State last year at center half and rates one of the school's all time greats. Dieter, ranked as New-England's second best goalie as a sophomore, didn't play last year because of a dislocated shoulder, but is expected to make a strong comeback this term.

Returning lettermen also include Gordon Douglas, a half-back, who played for the first time last year and with the year's experience is expected to be a great help to the team. ritt, both juniors, who played the forward line last year, are also expected to improve over last year's play.

John Coogan and Hans Zucker are sophomores up from the undefeated freshman team and are fighting for a starting position. The team has only been practicing for a few days and Coach McKeon is still pretty much in the dark concerning the new men.

Richard Hungerford has been appointed assistant coach and will also serve as freshman coach. Hungerford was an All American center forward at Springfield College for the past two years. He will work for his masters degree in administration-education.

The Man Who Thinks for Himself Knows...

One more question: Do you think about the filter cigarette you choose or just smoke any brand? If you're the kind of person who thinks for himself ... you use judgment in your choice of cigarettes, as in everything else.

Men and women who think for themselves usually smoke VICEROY. Their reasons? Best in the world. They know the difference between fact and fancy. They know that only VICEROY has a thinking man's filter and a smoking man's taste.

Welcome freshmen, study hard, attend all classes and don't cheat. Not many of last year's freshmen returned - reasons: marriage, enlistments, or flunked. . . . Decrease in juniors too - this is where the men are separated from the boys. . . . Many seniors noticed this year - as long as you're in this deep its tough to get out.

Is it true that Dr. Boucek was stopped by customs trying to smuggle the recipe for Lowenbraugh out of Deutschland? . . . Frats and sororities looking over the crop for pledges. . . . Some of the crop not interested in secondary groups.

Why weren't we told last semester of the PLANNED increase in tuition? . . . Many things increase with the high cost of living; GI bill remains the same. APP would like to know the latest campus romances, pinings, engagements, weddings (shotgun or otherwise) . . . Jeanetti acquired a female roommate this summer (a wife.)

Students requesting a lab period for Soc. 204 (Marriage and the Family) . . . Poli Sci. and Soc. students requested to wear shirts and ties - good grief! Prof. Fenner took another six weeks bicycle trip through the Alps this summer. . . . Former APP editor doing well, considering.

Joanne Alechnowicz modeling for Warner's. . . . Joe Communale looking for a berth on the Olympic team. . . . Its fall when the girls bring out the sweaters and the sweaters bring out the girls. One fraternity and sorority represented UB in the Barnum Festival parade. . . . UB Sports Car Club winding up their little cars for a newer and bigger season.

Football team impressing the new freshmen co-eds. . . . Buglight brawl brings withdrawal. . . . Many seniors finished up this summer its not that they are terrifically smart; they've been taking courses for the last three summers. Freshman coach left college and went back to high school. . . . Prof. Chandler now a Yalee. . . . Mr. DeSeiro now Prof. DeSeiro.

Who was the student who tried to get his camp fire badge by setting fire to Milford Hall? . . . Only 30 students went out for football this year; not many bench warmers this year. . . . Honeybuckets now defunct, reason: marriage, families, work, night classes, and old age. . . . The coffee at Alumni is beginning to taste like coffee. . . .

Nurses Given Grants

The U.S. National Institute of Health has awarded a $9,217 grant to the College of Nursing to develop and expand mental health teaching at the University.

In July, the College of Nursing received a $2,500 grant from the New Haven Foundation to expand the University's public health nursing program.

Miss Libby Zagorin, assistant professor of nursing will direct mental health teaching under the grant, Prof. Martha P. Jayne, dean of the College of Nursing, announces.

Special educational opportunities for graduates of the Yale Graduate School of Nursing have been provided. A member of Yale who has received a mental health career teaching grant will study at UB to obtain field experience.

Miss Zagorin received her B.S. and M.A. degrees from Teachers College Columbia University, where she majored in psychiatric nursing. She also has a certificate from Simmons College and has received professional training at the Massachusetts General Hospital.

Coordinator of clinical experience for College of Nursing students for the past two years, she was a member of the Wayne University faculty prior to coming to Bridgeport.

She is a member of the National League for Nursing committee planning regional conferences and participated in a New England conference of the League earlier this year.

Engineers Will Meet Sept. 24

The Engineering Society will hold its initial meeting of the year Sept. 24 in the Tech Building, Robert Moran, president, announced last week.

Moran requests all interested students of engineering to attend the meeting which will consist of a general briefing on the aims of the organization.

Moran stated that the Society which numbers 60, was originated in 1947. It works in conjunction with the engineering department in many of its activities and also works with the University Placement Bureau in helping to place the Society's graduating members.

Officers of the organization for the new school year besides Moran, include Tim McCoy, vice-president; Dan Rubino, secretary; Frederick Dauer, treasurer; and Chris Bisciglia, public relations officer. Prof. Raymond W. Petrie is advisor to the group.

Scribe Editors Named For 1958

The editorial staff for the academic year 1958-59 has been announced by the Scribe Editorial Board.

Jack Mischou will continue as editor-in-chief. Other students elected to fill positions on the staff are as follows: Ed Clark and Norman Stern, photographers; Andy Morgo, sports editor; Mercedes Palladino, rewrite editor; Laura Rossi and Ginny Merly, assistant rewrite editors; Art Altman, business manager; Sid Kohn, advertising manager; features; Campus Clock, Bobbie Troubh; Ten Years Ago at UB, Abigail Krebs; Along Park Place, Ron Miller.

The new 1958 yearbooks will be given out next Tuesday and Wednesday in the Student Activities Office on the second floor of Alumni Hall.

Dr. Chandler Awarded Yale Fellowship

A post-doctoral fellowship at Yale University has been awarded to Dr. Kenneth A. Chandler, former associate professor and chairman of the department of psychology.

Dr. Chandler joins the staff department of psychiatry and psychology at Yale. He will specialize in clinical psychology with assignment at the West Haven

V.A. hospital. A graduate of Clark University, where he received his A.B., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees, Dr. Chandler has been a member of the faculty here since 1954.

Dr. Chandler served as instructor of basic and advanced courses in the Arts and Science curriculum.

800 New Students Expected Today

More than 800 new students from countries as well as most of the states in the north east and many other sections of the country will be included in the student body. Applications from students outside of the New England area have been the heaviest in the University's history, Dr. Kern observed.

Applications for fall enrollment reached the highest point in the University's history, Dr. Kern reported, with more than 2,300 students applying for admission, representing a 30 percent increase over last fall. Approximately 1600 new students applied for admission last September with 700 registering as students.

Total enrollment in combined day and evening divisions last fall surpassed the 4,000 mark with approximately 1800 students enrolled on a full-time basis and 2,200 registered in evening classes.
